

Prof. Dr. Carmen Castilla Vázquez
University of Granada, Spain

Fields of Research

Her research focuses on popular religiosity, new religious movements, and immigration. She is part of the University of Granada working group “Estudios Socioculturales Aplicados (Applied Sociocultural Studies) and has spent time researching and teaching at the University of Florence and at the University of North Carolina at Chapel Hill.

Education and Qualifications

Carmen Castilla received her PhD. in Social Anthropology from the University of Seville and is a professor of social anthropology at the University of Granada. Since 2012 she is the Coordinator of the degree in Social and Cultural Anthropology at the University of Granada (Spain).

Research work

Among her publications can highlight: (2017) A New Model of Linguistic-Cultural Immersion: The Pedagogical Reform in the CASA-Seville Program^[1] Luisa Álvarez Ossorio, Carmen Castilla Vázquez. Revista de Humanidades, 31, Sevilla, p. 39-56 | (2016) Women in Catholicism or the eternal absence. ^[1]Revista de Humanidades, 29 | (2014) Religious Pluralism, Conflict and Social Transformation in Today's Spain. In: J. Martín Ramírez, C. Morrison & A.J. Kendall (eds). Conflict, Violence, Terrorism, and their Prevention. Newcastle: Cambridge Scholars Publishing. | (2011) El diálogo interreligioso: iniciativas para la gestión de la diversidad religiosa. Granada: Comares | (2006) He decidido dejar mi país: reflexiones en torno al fenómeno de la inmigración. Sistema, 194, Madrid, p. 45-72. | (2006) La religione di integrazione sociale come fattore Contesti nei di immigrazione: il case dell'Andalusia (Spagna). In: A. Nesti (ed.). Multiculturalism and religious pluralism and realtà fra illusione: a é altro mondo possibile? Firenze University Press, p. 283-294. | (1999) De neófitos a iniciados: el movimiento neocatecumenal y sus ritos de admisión, Gazeta de Antropología, nº 15.