

Prof. Dr. Palmira Pečiuliauskienė

Vytautas Magnus University, Lithuania

Fields of Research

Didactics of Science Education, Motivation for Learning Science, Information and Communication Technology (ICT) in Science Education. Prof. Pečiuliauskienė is expert of ICT in science education and inquiry at international database Lituanistika.

Professional experience

Palmira Pečiuliauskienė has been working at the Vytautas Magnus University (Kaunas, Lithuania) since 2018. Before that (in 2000-2018) Palmira Pečiuliauskienė worked as Professor at the Dept. of Education in Lithuanian university of educational sciences.

Research work

Professor worked in the 7BP program at the inquiry project S-TEAM. The inquiry project ENGAGE (the 7BP program) opened new area in the field of her research – the responsible research and innovation (RRI) in science education. Project ENGAGE is a winner of the 2017 OER & Project Awards for Open Education Excellence, which was announced by the global network of Open Education (OEC). Prof. Pečiuliauskienė has published over 50 scientific publications. She is co-author of two monographs, several textbooks, and member of editorial boards of journal Pedagogika. Palmira Pečiuliauskienė has participated in more than 15 scientific councils of doctoral defence, and opposed (examined) six doctoral dissertations. Seven doctoral students of professors' successfully defended their theses in the field of educational sciences.