

Robert Holman, Professor
SHORT PROFESSIONAL INFO

CURRENT POSITION

Head of Department of Economics, University of Economics, Prague
Director of the International Institute of Social and Economic Sciences (IIES)

EDUCATION:

MA in Economics: University of Economics, Prague, 1973-1978
PhD in Economics: University of Economics, Prague, 1984-1989

ACADEMIC AND PROFESSIONAL BACKGROUND:

1984 – 1989	Lecturer, University of Economics, Prague
1989 – 1997	Associated Professor, University of Economics, Prague
1997	Appointed Professor in Economics
1997 – present	Professor, University of Economics, Prague
1992 – 1997	Economic Advisor to the Prime Minister of the Czech Republic
2005 – 2011	Member of Board of the Czech National Bank responsible for economic research and financial stability
2011 – 2013	Economic Advisor to the President of the Czech Republic
2011 – present	Head of the Department of Economics, University of Economics, Prague
2012 – present	Managing Director of the IIES

ACADEMIC INTEREST AREAS:

Macroeconomics, Monetary economics, History of Economic Thought

MEMBERSHIP:

1995 – 1997	Committee of the Czech Economic Association
2007 – 2010	Economic Policy Committee of the OECD
1995 – 2013	Academic Board of the Liberal Institute, Prague
2003 – present	Academic Board of the University of Economics, Prague
2012 – present	Academic Board of the Czech Technical University, Prague
2013 – present	SGEM International Scientific Committee

AWARDS:

2006 Award of Karel Engliš, Masaryk University, Brno

PUBLICATIONS:

11 books, including 4 textbooks
26 articles in journals indexed in Web of Knowledge.

CITATIONS:

148 in Web of Knowledge
100 in SCOPUS